LOCAL BRIEFS.

"A Little Outcast" is not an outcast at all in Salt Lake. Thousands of people all night and yesterday afternoon and evening have seen him in his role as the "Little Outcast" in the play "The Little Outcast" at the Grand theatre. The play is a masterpiece of the pen and the stage. The play is a masterpiece of the pen and the stage. The play is a masterpiece of the pen and the stage.

"A Little Outcast" fills out the balance of the week at the Grand.

"A Chinese Honeycomb" opens at the Salt Lake theatre tonight an engagement that includes three performances. There will be a matinee tomorrow.

The advance sale for Florence Roberts, who has all of next week at the Salt Lake theatre, opens at the box office this morning.

"San Toy" "stood 'em up" at the Theatre yesterday afternoon and last night. The engagement closed with last evening's performance.

Heavyweight Champion James J. Jeffries will do stunts with "Davy Crockett" at the Grand, the last half of next week. Crockett's weight has not been announced.

MULOCK BOBS UP AGAIN. Virmillion Mystery "Sleuth" Has a "Clew" in Weber Case.

All hail Mulock! The "rubber-headed reporter," the man whose fake dog on the "solution of the W. A. S. Virmillion mystery" filled columns after columns of a morning newspaper until that paper turned up in this time in Los Angeles. Mulock's latest tip is to the effect that the discovery of the important witness in the Weber murder mystery, on which the Auburn (Cal.) authorities are now working, is the witness, George Murray by name, or designation, related to Mulock. The latter claims, a story indicating that Mulock's father, who is suspected of having butchered his entire family, "Morris," the account of the "Sleuth" Mulock says that after giving him the story the man made up the "Sleuth" case. The "Sleuth" says that he has been in the city for several days, where he expressed his intention of taking a train for the east. As in the Virmillion case, the "Sleuth" of the man who furnished the clew was made quite by accident.

As in the Virmillion case, Mulock goes into detail, his "rubber-head" faculties being apparently beyond the ken of ordinary observers. An old newspaper man at present residing in Salt Lake, who has in the past known Mulock in several different cities, stated yesterday that Mulock's story for several years has been to pose in murder cases as the unrivaled of mystery. As in the Virmillion case, the "Sleuth" succeeded in the past in unravelling only yarns, no mysteries.

Coincident with the exposure of the fake case Mulock's disappearance. Since then nothing has been heard of the "Sleuth" until this time of his latest adventure on the coast. An account of this was published in the San Francisco Examiner of Nov. 2.

The Virmillion case has remained a mystery to this day. The "Sleuth" was found lying dead in the rear of his prescription counter at the store, 211 W. Second South street, Monday, Aug. 25. Two shots had been heard just previous to the discovery of the "Sleuth."

The police maintained from the start that it was suicide. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder. There was no apparent motive for either of these. No suspect was ever arrested.
